LOCAL WHOLESALE TRADE

GOOD BUSINESS TRANSACTED DUR-ING THE ENTIRE WEEK.

Prices in Many Lines Show an Advancing Tendency, Though Already High-Light Grain Markets.

Trade in the week ended on Saturday was very satisfactory. Many strangers were in the city including retail buyers from other points than those from which Indianapolis wholesale houses usually draw trade, and all were liberal buyers. Prices in nearly all lines continue to carry a strong tone, especially in the produce market, poultry, eggs and butter all ruling strong at the recent but it is believed that top figures have been reached. There was a 5-point advance in the price of sugars during the week. Coffee rules steady and is moving freely. Navy beans are very firm at the recent advance. From all over the country come reports of very strong flour markets and a further advance in prices is probable. Canned goods are very firm. Packers claim that there will be a very short crop of corn in New England and northern New York, but the season is yet young and little reliance can be placed on estimates so early in the year. Dry goods merchants had busy week. Prices on all lines of goods are firm. Druggists report trade as excellent and prices firm in all lines, especially paints Leather continues active, with prices steady and firm, but unchanged, as time past. The hide market is with prices firm at the recent ad-Confectioners had a little rush of as much business as in former years in the month of June. Indianapolis maintains its precedence as the manufacturing point of steel cut nails, $2.50; wire nails, from store, the store as much business as in former years in the $2.25 rates; from mill, $2.15 rates. Horseshoes, per keg. $4.50; horse nails, $4.65 per box. Barb wire, galvanized, $3; precedence as the manufacturing point of candy, especially fine goods. Commission men report their trade as very satisfactory. Stocks of last year's line of fruits and vegetables are quite well reduced. This year's production is coming in freely, but there is no surplus, consequently, the commission men have the swing as to prices.

Indianapolis Grain Market.

Receipts of grain have been the largest of any week of several months past, but they up to expectations of the dealers, who plan to make more money in June than any other month. It is surprising that shipcorn are not larger. The local keep them moving and are unable to get enough stock to run to the extent that they desire. WHEN YOU GO ON THE WATER.

How to Keep from Drowning if You

Fall Overboard.

New York Telegram.

In order to lessen, if possible, the number of fatal drowning accidents that occur durselling on Tuesday and Wednesday at 50c a ing the summer the United States Volunbashel. The week closed with the following | teer Life Saving Corps has issued a bulletin range of prices, as reported by the wagon giving instructions for the saving of perfor the guidance of those who go on the "A large proportion of the lives lost every year," says the bulletin, "are of children who have never been given any conception of the dangers on the waters, either in bathing or boating. We have been long and persistently urging upon parents and school boards the duty and necessity of education n this direction and of teaching the young how to swim and how to act when boating, and assa result many lives have been saved the past year by children in their teens. "First-Do not go out in any pleasure boat of small or large dimensions without being assured that there are life saving buoys or cushions aboard sufficient to float all on board in case of an upset or collision. "Second-With a party, be sure you are all properly and satisfactorily seated before you leave the shore, particularly so when girls are on board. Let no one attempt to exchange seats in midstream or to put a foot on the edge or gunwale of the boat to Where the waters become rough from a sudden squall or passing steamers never rise in the boat, but settle down as close to the bottom as possible and keep cool until the rocking danger is past. "If overturned, a woman's skirts, if held out by her extended arms, while she uses her feet as if climbing up stairs, will often hold her up while a boat may pull out from the shore and save her. A nonswimmer, by drawing his arms up to his sides and pushing down with widely extended hands. while stair-climbing, or treading water with his feet, may hold himself up several minutes, often when a single minute means his life; or throwing out the arms, dog fashion, forward overhand and pulling in, as if reaching for something-that may bring him help, may at least keep him afloat till help comes.

"Third-In rescuing drowning seize them by the hair or the collar, back of the neck; do not let them throw their arms around your neck or arms. If unmanageunder a moment until quiet; then tow them ashore. If unconscious, do not wait a moment for a doctor or an ambulance, but begin at once: First, get the tongue out and hold it by a handkerchief or towel to let the water out; get a bouy, box or barrel under the stomach, or hold them over your knee, head down, and jolt the water out: then turn them over side to side four or five times; then on the back, and with a oump movement keep their arms going pit of stomach to a straight out and back fourteen or sixteen times a minute until signs of returning life are shown. A bellows movement pressure on the stomach at the same time is a great aid if you have

from July Shorts-All Hog Products Show Losses.

CHICAGO, June 20.-Trading in the grain pit was of a smaller volume to-day, and less bullishness was manifested than late, although September wheat closed 1/40 higher. September corn was a shade higher, with oats unchanged, while provisions were from 21/2c to 10c lower.

Opening prices in wheat were strong, the face of easier cables, the bullish reports from the Southwest, together with the reports of a lack of rain in the Northwest causing a good general demand at the start, and July opened 4c to 4c higher, at 76%@76%c, and September 46%c to 4c higher, at 75c to 75%c. The early strength at St. Louis, Minneapolis and Duluth helped the market here, but there was a good deal of long wheat for sale at the advance, and with a reaction at St. Louis prices gradually eased off. Commission houses were free sellers and before the middle of the session all the opening advance had been lost, July being down to 764c and September to 74%c. A better demand developed toward the close, and the market became firmer. July closed 1/61/4c higher, at 76% @76%c, while September was 1/3c higher, at 74%@75c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 245,000 bu. Primary receipts were 321,700 bu, against 422,800 bu a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 242 cars, which, with local receipts of twelve cars-none of contract grade-made a total of 254 cars, against 300 cars last week and 298 cars a year ago. Cold weather and predictions of general bullish sentiment in corn and there was good buying at the start by shorts and commission houses. Opening prices were strong, but as the session advanced the market became easier, due to liberal selling by pit traders. The market closed about where it left off last night, July unchanged at 49%c, after selling between 49%c and 50%c, and September a shade higher at 49%c, after selling between 49%c and 50%c. Despite the claims of small country offerings receipts continued liberal at 637 cars, 68 of contract grade. Trading in oats was characterized by a strong demand for July from shorts, which caused a good advance in that month, and by the strength in the December option. Poor crop prospects were the main influence. After selling between 39% c and 40% c July closed 160% c higher at 40c. September was unchanged at 331/2c. after ranging between 331/4@331/3c and 331/3c. Receipts were 176 cars.

There was little interest manifested provisions, the trading being almost at a standstill. The easier tone in the hog market was an early influence and with the dull trade prices ruled easier throughout the day. September pork closed 10c lower at $16.90, lard down 71/2c at $8.90, and ribs 21/205c lower at $9.271/2c. Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat,

NO COLOR LINE IN MUSIC. A Southern Tribute to the Melodies of the Black Man. Raleigh (N. C.) Post.

Those who have charge of the local arrangement for the Confederate reunion at New Orleans very properly want music and call for twenty bands. The bands of the city all belong to a union, and some of them are composed of colored people. To supply the twenty bands called for makes it necessary to include some, at least, of the negro artists, and this the local managers object to. They have been notified by the union that unless they accept the negro bands along with the white they can march

Where the objection to the colored musiclans can come in we fail to see. They will only be employed for their music, and nothing more, and we venture to say they will furnish more really inspiring, heartlifting music than all the other bandscomposed of foreigners as they are ever dreamed of, and more reaching after the outhern heart. Why, the Southern negro melodies are the only distinctive American music to-day. And when did Southern people cease emloying the colored band, string or tooting instrument, or both, for their strictly social functions? We have danced all night till broad aylight and gone home with the girls in the morning to the inspiring strains of Old Frank Johnson and Pompey Long, and they have successors who are quite as responsive to demands upon them. to the music of colored bands, we old veter-"Dixle" or the "Mocking Bird," or the Suwanee Ribber," when rendered by our earth ever threw his soul into his music it is our Southern negro when he is glorytooting a familiar Southern melody on a honn. Let the committee of arrangements go on with its business. The old vets are willing for the sons of their old plantation darkles to make music for them any-

Wiles of the Autograph Fiend.

A young Philadelphian who has a fine collection of autographs, mostly in the form of personal letters, has let several friends into the secret of how he acquired them. Everybody knows," he said, "how hopeless it is to get an autograph from a man When such requests are complied with at all, which is very seldom, the autograph is simply in the form of a signature scrawled on a card, which possesses little interest instance, a man like President Roosevelt writes a book. I go to the public library, have told. He then told this story to his friend:

been in the book, and asking adroitly if there is any ulterior meaning in the passage I have quoted. This plan generally brings forth a reply that is of interest aside from the mere signature. I have adopted the same tactles with prominent persons in various walks of life with almost unfailing success. It's a great thing to pretend that you are deeply interested in the personal doings of all sorts of celebrities, and I don't think any of them have suspected me of being a mere autograph

CATTLE QUIET AND WEAK, WITHOUT IMPORTANT CHANGE IN PRICES.

Hogs Active and a Trifle Lower-Sheep in Light Demand and Dull-Condition of Other Markets.

UNION STOCKYARDS, INDIANAPOLIS,

June 20.-Cattle-Receipts, 250; shipments, 100. The marketing of cattle this week has been of good volume, the total showing a decrease of only about 300 compared with last week, and an increase of 1,800 compared with the same week a year ago, and over 3,000 compared with the corresponding week two years ago. Thus far this year the receipts are about 500 larger than the same time last year, and for the month thus far there is a gain of over 2,500 compared with the same period last year. The market this week has been uncertain and prices irregular, but, after all, the results for the most part have been reasonably satisfactory to sellers when compared with other markets. At the beginning of the week the trade here was influenced by excessive supplies elsewhere, and the first two days values for most of the cattle suffered a decline of about 10c in prices. Later, however, there was a slight rally, and desirable cattle recovered most of the early loss in prices. The last half of the week, and especially the last two days, there was a good outlet for all well-finished dry-fed cattle that were not too heavy, and they sold usually as high as at the close of last week. There was more discrimination, however, against the big heavy cattle of all kinds, and especially those that were not of prime quality and smooth finish. Such kinds were difficult to sell, and in a general way possibly 10c lower than the same kinds were selling at the close of last week. If there was any class of cattle that showed less change this week than another it was the good cows, but canners suffered a decline of about 25c. There was also a very dull market for bulls at the close of the week, and they moved slowly at a decline of

The supply of stockers and feeders this week has been considerably larger than for some time past, and with not a great deal of improvement in the country demand salesmen have had more difficulty in finding an outlet for their consignments, and at the extreme close of the week sales were usually on a basis of 15c to 25c lower than last week. The conditions at the close of this week indicate that there is very little trade for heavy meat, and, therefore, it is rather expected that the choice light cattle will continue to sell to better advantage than the heavy grades. Shippers should also continue to be very careful in buying grass-fed cattle, and it is advisable to allow a very wide margin for

The highest price paid this week was $5.20 for steers, against $5.40 the extreme price last week, but it is a fact that the best cattle here this week were not up to the standard of last week. Heifers sold as high as $4.75, cows $4.40, bulls $4 and caives $6.75.

The receipts to-day, as usual on Saturday, were small, and there was no important demand for any kind, consequently the market negotiate sales at yesterday's prices, but finally about the usual clearance was made on such terms. Quotations:

The highest prices of the week were $6.30 for heavy logs and $6.25 for light. week ago, and at least 1,500 larger than a year In sympathy with other places the market ened with buyers expecting lower prices, and business started, but later salesmen were perfinally, at steady to 5c lower prices than yes Evidently there was a feeling among buyers that they were being forced to pay high the competition was not strong. Several loads market shippers excused themselves on account of the scarcity of cars, and with no opposition packers naturally were balking. The result was that salesmen had to carry over a few loads, or else sell them at lower prices. Sales to-day ranged from $6.121/4 to $6.25, and the bulk of the supply sold at $6.15@6.20, with light grades howing the most strength. Quotations Mixed and heavy packing..... than the same period last year, and for the month thus far there is a gain of over 2,500. The supply this week has been really larger than required, and the natural result was a reaction in prices. The change, however, have been more perceptible on lambs than on sheep. In fact, there was not much change in prices of sheep until at the extreme close of the week, when the bulk of the sales were made at a decline of about 25c, but the extreme top remained the same. Lambs lost 35c at the beginning of the week, and later 150 inoro, so at the close of the week, and later 150 inoro, so at the close of the week they were salling generally 18c loss of the seales were manual compleyments. The highest prices paid this week were $7 for spring lambs, $5.75 for yearlings, week there were not many lambs selling above $6. sheep above $3.75, or yearlings above $5. The receipts to-day were larger than usual at this time in the week, and with no importan orders the market was quiet, and it was difcult to consummate sales at yesterday's dein prices. Shippers, as usual this time in the week, were not wanting many, and, there being more than local butchers could use, the market closed with a number left unsold. Quotations:

little darling is talking quite plainly now. "Indeed!" I answered with an admirable display of enthusiasm. "He must be a smart boy. H'll be riding a bicycle immediately.' "As it happens," Agnes replied somewhat coldly, "he's a little girl." "Stupid of me," I murmured. "Will you let me see her? She must be nearly a year

"Twenty-two months old," said Agnes, reproachfully. "Here's the darling." So little Dora entered. Tripping over the mat, she staggered with a rolling gait toward her mother, lurching dangerously toward the sharp corners of tables and the fireplace. Then she steadied herself at her mother's knee with a doubtful smile. "Speak to your Uncle Jim, darling," said

"Hung-goong-goong," said Dora. At least that is the closest I can come to the sound she made-Agnes was in raptures. "Why don't you answer her?" she asked. "What exactly is she saying?" I meant to imply that I had a fairly good idea of her meaning-which I had not-but didn't want to risk the wrong answer. "'How do you do?' of course." Agnes ex-plained. Didn't you, darling? You asked Unka Jim how he was, all by yous own

Thus encouraged, Dora remarked, in an imperative tone: "Doe waa udabaga." "So you shall, ducky," said Agnes, ringing the bell. To the nurse, who came so quickly that she must have been waiting in the obby, Agnes said: "Bring the big picture book, please." Then to me: "Isn't she clever to ask for what she wants?"

"It's equally marvelous to me how you Hogs-Receipts, 5,000; shipments, 1,500. This know what she wants. How on earth does "Quite simple," Agnes explained. "Udabaga means boys and girls, and there is a picture of boys and girls playing, that the ittle pet is so fond of. "Doe waa ga a gow-wow," said the prod-'No. darling, it's far too cold for Doe in the gow-wow," Agnes repeated, beseech-

"Takes after her mother," I answered.

What on earth is the gow-wow? "Drawing room," said Agnes. "How stupid men are! You really ought to get married. Jim." Marriage is with Agnes the remedy for every human weakness or vice or misfortune-even for dire poverty. "Doe ky-ky," said the infant, threaten-"Doe no ky-ky." Agnes responded, very earnestly. If Doe ky-ky Unka Jim be so sor-

"Man pee-a ha-an-boo," said the infant, regarding me with an expectant air. 'The darling," said Agnes. "She wants you to put on your hat and boots. She brings Tom his hat every morning after "Sounds rather rude, doesn't it, when I've just come in? "Man pee-a ha-an-boo, way ka-ka." Then, as a piano organ struck up in the street, her tone of command changed to a cry of ecstasy. Man-moo, man-moo, man-moo! "I suppose you can understand that, at east?" Agnes asked, with thinly veiled "Yes, she is a clever kiddy. I'll give that grinder sixpence for her as I go out. 'Come back, soon," said Agnes, hospit-"The little pet is picking up new words every day It seems probable that the new words picked up daily by the little pet must have been dropped from a considerable height, with nothing to break their fall. tain adventurous students in acting as strike breakers has seriously prejudiced the hances of their fellows who really need the noney. Three students who left their classes at Chicago University to ship on a lake oat, and a handful of others who took rivers' places at New Haven received as much advertisement as if the entire popuation of American institutions of learning had deserted academic halis and taken up the task of "degrading the honest working man." It is of record that two university sidents, one in the East and one in the West, were unwilling to interfere officially with the students who entered the labor market in these irregular ways.
